Senate Proposed Tax Package Heads for Rough Handling In The House Republican Caucus

Harrisburg, Aug. 15—(P)—A $138,685,000 senate-proposed tax package headed for a rough manhandling today in the house Republican caucus.

A creeping rebellion against one or more of the six levies in the package left a doubt whether it would remain intact by the time the taxes are officially introduced as bills.

Speaker Herbert P. Sore (R-Elk) declined to comment on reports that the house GOP caucus was sharply divided on acceptance of the package. It features new levies on tobacco products and real estate transfers and increases in taxes on cigars, beer, corporate net income and gross receipts of public utilities.

Death Claims Wife Of Former School Superintendent

M. Louise (Zulick) Pressel, highly respected Warren woman and wife of Penrose W. M. Pressel, prominent Pennsylvania educator, passed quietly away in Warren General Hospital at 9:12 p. m. Tuesday. Mrs. Pressel had been in failing health for several years but the end came as a result of a sudden and brief illness which came upon her last Friday and at which time she was taken to the hospital. A deep interest in people and in events was shown by Mrs. Pressel until a short time before her passing.

Mrs. Pressel, as a bride of one year, came to Warren in 1948 and ever since that time she has been an active and faithful member of the First Lutheran church. She formerly taught in the Sunday School and her church has been close to her heart since early girlhood.

After coming to Warren, Mrs. Pressel became a member of the old Hawthorne Club and of the Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle, two organizations in which she was deeply interested. She was active for many years as a board member of the Y. W. C. A. The Daughters of the American Revolution was another organization in which she showed a keen interest and she was proudly a charter member of the General Joseph Warren Chapter. As a young woman, Mrs. Pressel was an able vocalist, an excellent contralto, and she sang in the First Presbyterian Choir during her early years in Warren. Mrs. Pressel had been a member of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Lutheran church ever since affiliating with the church upon her arrival here, and had been awarded a life membership in the Society. During World War I, she worked untiringly to raise money and accumulate clothing for Belgian Relief work, and was extremely active in Red Cross endeavors. Mrs. Pressel was a former member of the Eastern Star.

GIBSON TAX MEASURE APPROVED IN HOUSE

Harrisburg, Aug. 15—(P)—A proposed amendment to the State Constitution to permit the Commonwealth to tax private forest reserves has won approval of the senate.

Already passed by the house, the measure to become law must be passed for the second time by the 1953 legislature and be approved by the voters in a referendum.

It is sponsored by Reps. Allen M. Gibson (R-Warren), Clarence E. Moore (R-Clinton) and Harris G. Breth (D-Clearfield).

Truman's Blast Against 'Hate-Mongers' Brings Challenge From Sen. McCarthy

Washington, Aug. 15—(P)—President Truman's blast at "hate-mongers" brought a challenge from Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) today for a 1952 political showdown on his Communists-in-government charges.

Mr. Truman dedicated the new Washington headquarters of the American Legion last night with an attack on those he said "are trying to create fear and suspicion among us by the use of slander, unproved accusations and just plain lies."

Senator Benton (D-Conn) promptly nominated McCarthy as the object of the attack. Benton has proposed that the senate formally consider ousting the Wisconsin senator.

McCarthy, accepting the designation, flung a challenge back at the president. He said:

"If Truman wants to make the fight against Communism—which he calls 'McCarthyism'—an issue in the campaign, I will welcome it. It will give the people a chance to choose between Americanism or a combination of Trumanism and Communism."

Senator Humphrey (D-Minn.) said the president told him in advance he would make a "rip-snorting" speech. In his speech, Mr. Truman assailed people he said claim to be against Communism but are "chipping away at our basic freedoms just as insidiously and far more effectively than the Communists have ever been able to do."

Senator Taft of Ohio, mentioned as a possible Republican presidential candidate next year, told a reporter he regards Mr. Truman as the "hysterical" one.

Mr. Truman told the Legion audience that it was "an old Communist trick in reverse" to scare people into keeping silent about their rights.

Jap Peace Treaty to Be Made Public Today

Washington, Aug. 15—(P)—The U. S. and Britain make public today a third and final draft of a proposed "peace of reconciliation" with Japan which Russia has denounced. Despite continuing Soviet objections, both governments anticipate at least 40 of 50 countries will sign it at a conference in San Francisco next month.

Once the (6,500-word) treaty is ratified by a majority of the signers, it will formally end the war declared against the Japanese empire nearly 10 years ago.

GUARD SLAIN IN COOK CO. JAIL DELIVERY

Chicago, Aug. 15—(P)—A rapist and slayer awaiting electrocution beat a guard to death and escaped over the wall of the Cook county jail last night.

Police ordered to "shoot to kill" were combing the city today for the fugitive, Harry Williams, 20-year-old, six foot, two inch Negro who had been sentenced to die September 14 for murder. He is armed with the riot gun of the guard he killed.

Jail Warden Philip Scanlan and Sheriff John E. Babb issued the "shoot to kill" order. Babb personally offered a $1,000 reward for Williams' capture—dead or alive.

A short time after he escaped, Williams attempted to hold up a motorist about a mile from the jail. A policeman opened fire on Williams and he fled.

Later scores of police in more than a dozen squad cars surrounded a rooming house on the south side when it was discovered Williams had been there at the home of his uncle, William Hawkins, in search of a pair of shoes. It was not known why he was barefooted.

Hawkins said Williams couldn't find any shoes to fit him. Just then a squad car arrived and Williams fled.

"This man is so desperate he never will be taken alive," Warden Scanlan said.

The warden said Raymond Jenko, 20, white, who also was sentenced to die for murder, was seized in Williams' cell in the death row. He said Williams and Jenko were together in the escape plot, but that Jenko remained in the cell.

The jail break here was one of two prison disturbances in the nation yesterday. At Point-of-the-Mountain, Utah, the third riot in as many months in Utah's new multi-million dollar prison was put down without bloodshed.

Two prison officials who had been held as hostages under threat of death most of the day were released.

FIRST BIRTHDAY FOR BRITAIN ROYAL BABY

Balmoral, Scotland, Aug. 15—(P)—Princess Anne, the newest member of Britain's royal family, tried out her six teeth today on a birthday cake with one candle.

Telegrams from well wishers poured into Birkhall, the summer residence of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, from most parts of the world.

Reports from inside Birkhall said Prince Charles, who will be three in November, bustled about opening up the birthday presents for his kid sister.

Glum Exodus From Academy Marks Start Of Greatest Mass Expulsion in History

West Point, N. Y., Aug. 15—(P)—Thirty-three of the 90 accused military academy cadets are civilians today, most of them slated for early dates with their draft boards unless they gain admittance to other colleges.

Their glum exodus from the academy marked the beginning of the greatest mass expulsion in the 150-year history of the "Point".

All 90 are accused of violating the West Point honor code by cheating on examinations.

Col. James B. Leer, academy information officer, said yesterday that "almost all" of the departing 33 had resigned—rather than been waived out of the Army under administrative discharges.

The cadets who resigned left under an administrative order, which implies neither an honorable nor a dishonorable discharge. They received 30-day emergency leaves. When the leaves expire, those not already registered for selective service must report to their local draft boards.

Each departing cadet was interviewed by Maj. Gen. Frederick A. Irving, academy superintendent. Col. Leer said Irving told each cadet he was "confident" they would "rise above this and have a successful career."

At least 10 more of the accused cheaters will be fully processed today and take their "last walk" through the academy gates. The remainder of the 90 are expected to be gone by the end of the week.

The names of the accused cadets never have been made public, except when individuals identified themselves as part of the group.

Field & Stream Club Discusses Plans For Annual Meet September 15 and 16

The regular monthly meeting of the Warren Field & Stream Club was held last night in the Irvinedale School with an attendance of 106 members. Only business before the club was the matter of their Field Days to be held at Wilder Field Sept. 15 and 16 and a committee report on the Warr Penn Pool project.

Plans for the annual Field Days are progressing very nicely and it was announced that except for one act, entertainment for the two day festival has been arranged. Announcement that the free pony rides for younger children would again be a feature of the event was greeted with enthusiastic applause by the youngsters present. Club members who can work on the field during the event are urged to sign up promptly with Guy McKinley, Chairman of the Field Day. All members are requested to solicit contributions which entitle the donor to a chance at five very fine prizes to be awarded at the close of the event.

President Don Taft, reporting for the Warr-Penn pool committee, announced that after the pool was drained it was discovered that the debris and silt which had settled in the bottom of the pool was so great that a cleaning operation with hand labor was impossible. The project was completed with a power shovel, four trucks, and two bulldozers and an estimated 2,000 cubic yards of silt removed. Cost of the project exceeded by $142.30 the amount which the club had previously voted to spend on it and a motion approving payment of the overage was unanimously passed. The road along the pool and through the picnic area will this week be treated with Calcium Chloride to lay the dust.

Stewart Winewriter gave a delightful report on the Junior Conservation Course at State College which he attended this summer under the club's sponsorship. It was obvious from his remarks that the course was well worth while and that boys like Stewart who are privileged to attend the school will be the conservationists of the future. The members present got a real kick out of his wholesome observations and his easy delivery of his remarks.

Jack Reddeciff thanked the club for their help which enabled him to attend the Senior Conservation Course at State College last month. Mr. Reddeciff will teach the Conservation Course in Warren High School this year. A report from him together with still picture (Turn to Page Eight)

San Francisco, Aug. 15—(P)—The body of William Randolph Hearst, accompanied by his four sons, was flown today to San Francisco from Beverly Hills, where the famous newspaperman died yesterday after a series of strokes. He was 88.

Funeral arrangements were awaiting the arrival from New York of his widow, Mrs. Millicent V. Hearst, who is accompanied by a fifth son, John. Burial will take place in Cypress Lawn Cemetery, where the publisher's father, U. S. Senator George Hearst, and his mother, Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst, were buried.

Hearst's 57-page typewritten will already has been filed for probate in Los Angeles. His widow was left $1,500,000 in cash and the income from a $6,000,000 trust fund.

Former Screen Actress Marjorie Davies, in a codicil dated Aug. 19, 1947, was bequeathed the publisher's Beverly Hills home but a codicil, dated Sept. 8, 1948, revoked the bequest without explanation. His will directs that the estate (Turn to Page Eight)

Scranton, Aug. 15—(P)—A woman who felt "deep down in my heart I would see again" has had her profound faith rewarded.

Blind 11 years, Mrs. Mary Cerra, 38, can see again. The mother of three children, who on Oct. 24, 1940, was stricken blind as a result of an optic hemorrhage suffered during childbirth, has regained much of her vision and can distinguish colors in even small objects.

While physicians are reluctant to say whether the restoration is of a permanent nature, they concede such cases are rare. Nor will they express an opinion of how the miracle-like restoration occurred.

Mrs. Cerra attributes it to her constant prayers. "I have a feeling," she said firmly, "it all came about from them."

77-Year-Old John D. Jr., Takes a Bride

New York, Aug. 15—(P)—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., 77-year-old multimillionaire, and Mrs. Martha Baird Allen were married today in Providence, R. I., it was announced here.

Rockefeller's first wife, the former Abby Greene Aldrich to whom he was married 47 years, died in 1948. They had five sons and a daughter.

Rockefeller was attended by his son, John D. 3rd. Two other sons, Nelson and David also were present.

There had been no hint that Rockefeller, who devotes his time to the many charities established by his father, was going to re-marry. The couple obtained their marriage license today. It was the bride's third marriage.

Large Sum Is Left To Widow In Will Left by Publisher

U. N. Delegates Suggest That Subcommittee Be Set Up To Untangle Truce Negotiations

Munsan, Korea, Aug. 15—(P)—United Nations delegates suggested today that a subcommittee be set up to break through the formality of Korean truce negotiations and attempt to settle the buffer zone deadlock.

Red delegates showed interest, a U. N. spokesman said. Simultaneously, U. N. command headquarters in Tokyo announced that the Allies, if necessary, will continue "destroying or driving out of Korea" the Red Chinese and Korean armies.

At Kaesong the chief U. N. delegate, Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, proposed a two man committee—one from each side—seek an end to the deadlock in an air of informality.

He proposed the subcommittee "meet around rather than across the table." They would thus escape "the formality of utterances" which he said contributed to the three-week-old dispute over where to place a military dividing line across Korea that would separate opposing armies during an armistice.

Joy asked the Communists to reply Thursday. The negotiators meet next at 1 p. m. (10 p. m. Wednesday, EST).

The five generals "showed more visible interest in Admiral Joy's proposal than they have shown in any other statement," Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols reported. "It was sufficiently different to call for their undivided attention," Nuckols commented.

Both delegations appeared more cheerful than usual when they left the meeting place, a pool dispatch from Kaesong said. And Communist newsmen on the scene hinted the Reds might be willing to discuss a demarcation line based on the present battle front, as the Allies demand.

Delegations have been stymied since July 27 over the location of the demarcation line. North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il, heading the Red negotiators, Wednesday reiterated the Red demand it be along the 38th parallel. This is generally south of the battle line.

Joy made his subcommittee proposal near the close of the 25th Kaesong session. It was the 15th in which the negotiators had argued over the buffer zone.

Joy's proposal called for a joint committee of one delegate from each side aided by not more than two staff assistants each, including interpreters. He said he was willing to name his men immediately, if Nam accepted the idea.

If a subcommittee is convened, Nuckols said, he did not know whether the full delegations would continue in session at the same time. There are five men on each delegation. Joy and Nam do all the talking. Most everything they say is read from prepared statements.

Nuckols also said he didn't know (Turn to Page Eight)

Reds opened up on separate Allied patrols in the Kumsong sector of the central front, AP Correspondent Stan Carter reported. In the East an Allied patrol skirted the "punch bowl," a valley which once swarmed with Communist troops, without bumping into resistance.

Clark Is Impressed By 28th Showing

Ft. Bragg, N. C., Aug. 15—(P)—Gen. Mark W. Clark said he was "very much impressed" after an inspection of Pennsylvania's 28th Division, now engaged in exercise Southern Pine.

"Everyone appears to be serious and seems to realize the importance of getting the most out of this field exercise," the chief of army field forces said yesterday. Accompanying Clark as he looked over the 28th were Lt. Gen. John W. Leonard, commanding general, Third Field Army; Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, commander of the 28th, and Brig. Gen. John G. Van Houten, assistant division commander.

As Clark completed the tour, he told Strickler to "keep up the fine work, the division is in excellent shape."

Meanwhile, Strickler disclosed that the division's personnel will be given leaves between Sept. 16 and Oct. 15, following their return to Camp Atterbury, Ind., and before going overseas to become part of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's Atlantic Pact Army in Europe. Duration of the leaves has not yet been determined.

Old thrills... new money

If you've taken the family to an amusement park recently, you've had reason enough to recall "the good old days," and to remember how much more a dollar would buy then than now.

But don't blame those who run the park, the roller-coaster, or the merry-go-round. Blame the dollar! It buys less today than ever before.

Needless to say, it buys less for us, too.

The cost of supplies and equipment used in the telephone business is going up and up, just like the cost of supplies and equipment for other businesses... and just like the cost of food, clothing and amusement for you.

Take copper wire for example. Ten years ago, it cost us about $16 per hundredweight. Today, it costs $31.50—nearly twice as much.

In spite of all this, we have been able to provide good, low-cost telephone service that continues to grow in value.

Even if it should cost more, your telephone service, in comparison with other things, would still be a big, big bargain.

Queen Coronation Program Outlined For Oil Festival

Titusville Herald: A beautiful queen to rule over the festivities of the annual Oil Festival Week will be crowned at 7:30 p. m. of the opening day. The queen will be selected that night at the program at Carter Field.

Hal Hague's orchestra will provide the music for the coronation. Featured in the band will be the piano playing of Alvin Washburn, recently with the Jimmy Dorsey band, and the trombone playing of maestro Hague, formerly with Art Mooney's orchestra.

The lovely Tillotson sisters of Spartansburg will be featured as the vocalists. The girls recently competed in the Warner Brothers-RCA-Victor sponsored "Star Discovery" finals at Pittsburgh.

The band and the vocalists will also appear at the Oil Festival Ball on Wednesday, August 22, at Sullivan's hall. The music was secured through a grant from the Music Performance Trust Fund of the Recording Industry. Arrangements for the local event were handled by Charles Durette and Maurice Wizenberg.

Prizes to be received by the queen have been donated very generously by the merchants and soliciting is not yet completed. Committee chairman H. W. Bush said a complete list of prizes would be announced in several days. He also said complimentary tickets would be given to the contestants and their escorts.

The Bruce Shorts Post of Veterans of Foreign Wars, sponsors of the Oil Festival Week, will present the queen with a $100 U. S. Saving bond and each of the two runners-up will receive $25 bonds. All girls wishing to enter the contest are asked to fill in an application or contact Mr. Bush.

Lander Methodists End Successful Celebration of Ninetieth Birthday

Lander, Aug. 14—Featured by a large attendance at all services and events, the Lander Methodist church has concluded a successful celebration of the ninetieth anniversary of the founding of the church. Many former pastors and district superintendents were present, as well as many members who have moved away.

The Methodist Work began in Farmington Township as early as 1830, when Mr. and Mrs. John Mahan and Miss Lucina Burgett moved here from Jamestown. A class was organized and services held, but it was not until in August, 1861, that the congregation was organized and the church built on the present site.

The anniversary program opened last Thursday with sermon by Rev. Lynn A. Shindedecker of Falconer, N. Y., who spoke on the topic: "The Power and the Will to Survive." Dr. H. H. Barr of Warren, assisted in the service and the church choir, led by Mrs. Donald Ludwick, rendered special music. Dr. Barr gave a greeting and the pastor read letters of greeting from Rev. W. Harold Sloan and Rev. W. A. Fuller, who were unable to attend.

On Friday evening, the choir of the Epworth Methodist church in Jamestown gave a fine sacred concert-program, led by Mrs. Lucille Lown with Mrs. Allen Nelson as pianist. The entire church was filled for the concert. Rev. Ralph E. Tidmarsh, of Erie, was the speaker and he reminded the people of many interesting experiences during his pastorate in Lander. After the program the Ladies of the church and Youth Fellowship served refreshments in the Community House.

Saturday evening was "Youth Night". The Youth for Christ groups from the different churches attended, Donald Hagberg presided and music was furnished by the Lander choir. Rev. Victor Redfoot of Sugar Grove, was in charge of the devotions and Rev. Harry W. Beveridge gave a good young people's sermon on the subject, "When Youth Lives in the Responsibility of God."

Sunday was the final day in the celebration. Rev. D. B. Samuelson and Dr. Charles T. Greer addressed the Sunday school. The pastor, Rev. Gustav Erickson, had charge of the services at 11:00 and 3:00 o'clock, and the church choir furnished fine music.

The speaker in the morning was Rev. L. G. Wayne Furman, superintendent of Jamestown district, who spoke on "The Value of the Christian Church." It was a fine sermon and well received by a large audience. A special thank offering of $1,000.00 was received for the repair fund. In all $2,245.00 has been spent, repairing and beautifying the church property. A telegram of greeting from the Bethany church in Rockford was read by the pastor.

After the service a twelve dinner was served to the entire congregation in the Community House by the ladies of the church and the Youth Fellowship.

The closing sermon at three o'clock was given by Rev. Macklyn N. Lindstrom of Sharon, calling on the church to launch out in the future for still greater service for God and for His Kingdom. Topic used was, "Christ, the same Yesterday, Today, and Forever."

Rev. D. D. Samuelson and Rev. Victor Redfoot. Mrs. Otto H. Bloomster and daughter, Mr. Harry Mahan, member of the church, gave a very interesting historical address, telling the story of how the church began and has grown during these ninety years. Mr. Mahan's parents were among the founders of the congregation. Donald Mills of Irvine, Pa., spoke words of appreciation and the pastor expressed thanks to all who contributed to the success of the anniversary, including the press of both Warren and Jamestown, who so kindly have given the church fine publicity.

Logger Is Seriously Injured When Hit By a Steel Boom

A tall steel boom on an overturning log dolly crushed the right shoulder of Fred Wright, 38, of Route 1, Grand Valley, yesterday morning.

Although the injury was a serious one Mr. Wright's condition at the Titusville Hospital last night was good. He was transferred to Hamot Hospital in Erie today.

The accident occurred in the Selkirk vicinity on the Carter and Smith lumbering operation where Mr. Wright was working on contract, skidding logs. He was operating a large diesel caterpillar tractor, pulling an empty log dolly. The dolly was constructed of steel and had two large airplane-type tires, also a nine-foot steel boom used to lift logs off the ground. In some manner the pin connecting the dolly to the tractor worked loose. The dolly tongue dug into the dirt. A cable running from the tractor winch to the top of the boom flipped the dolly over toward the machine.

The steel beam crashed into the caterpillar fuel tank behind the driver and smashed into his right shoulder. Mr. Wright was dazed by the impact but he somehow stopped the machine and shut off the motor, although later he did not remember having done so.

One of Mr. Wright's children, a boy of about seven playing in the area, saw that something had happened to his father. He screamed and attracted the attention of a woodcutter, Lewis Hathaway of near Spartansburg. Mr. Hathaway took the injured man in his car to a Pleasantville physician for emergency treatment and then by the doctor's direction brought him to the hospital here.

The fuel tank on the tractor was caved in by the blow but it was otherwise undamaged. Engaged in the lumbering operation are John Carter and Ruel H. Smith, both of Warren. Last winter their sawmill burned to the ground in a late night fire but they are continuing to move logs from that district.

VET KILLS SELF
Natt Miller, 67, World War I veteran, was found dead Monday evening in an Oil City rooming house, the victim of self-poisoning, and a certificate of death by suicide was issued. Miller is thought to have taken an overdose of pills about 5 p. m. Saturday and apparently died six hours later. He left a suicide note. There are no known survivors. Burial will be made in the Greendale cemetery at Meadville.

FAMILY BURNED OUT
The Ernest B. Snyder family home in West Mead township, Crawford County, burned to the ground Monday. It was the second time in two months the ten Snyders have lost their house and possessions by fire. No one was injured in the blaze which destroyed the ten-room house, but the family salvaged only the clothes they were wearing and a few pieces of furniture. Only last June 2, the family's home in Hayfield township was wiped out by a fire which also destroyed part of their furniture and clothing.

DRIVING TOO FAST
When a truck driven by Donald Michael of Russell, went out of control on Pennsylvania avenue, west, Tuesday afternoon, it skidded for about 50 feet, went over the curb and struck a Penelec pole. In addition to $50 damages to the truck, which is owned by Charles Michael of Russell, a transformer door on the pole was torn loose. Borough Police arrested Donald Michael and charged him with "driving too fast under existing conditions."

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lowe and children, Dianna and Richard, 23 Orchard street, are spending this week with friends in Wynnewood, Pa.

No Extension of Student Deferment

Washington—(AP)—The blanket deferment of college students will end next Monday on schedule, Selective Service said today.

"There definitely will be no extension of the deferment," a spokesman said. "If draft boards don't have reports as to the scholastic standing or aptitude test scores of college men by the 20th, they can start classifying those men for the draft on the 21st."

The deferment to Aug. 20 was granted to allow sufficient time, after the end of school, for school authorities to mail scholastic standings to the draft boards, and for the educational testing service at Princeton, N. J., to send to the boards all scores from the aptitude tests it administered throughout the nation last spring.

Local boards may use this information to decide whether a student deserves deferment for another year.

Charles B. Dahl, 68, of Route 7, Meadville, died suddenly Monday at Conneaut Lake. Mr. Dahl, a retired railroad engineer, rented a boat to go fishing. He became ill in the boat and summoned help from a nearby fisherman, Thomas Guy of Chicago, who helped him ashore. He died shortly afterwards in a restaurant. Dr. Luther J. King, coroner, issued a verdict of death from natural causes, probably a heart attack.

MOOSE MEETING

The next regular meeting of Warren Lodge, L. O. O. M., No. 109, will be held this evening starting at eight o'clock. This will be the last meeting held during the month and a number of matters of importance are to be handled, including the appointment of a picnic committee. All members have been notified to attend. Following the business meeting a luncheon will be served and television reception enjoyed.

RATTLESNAT AT OIL CITY

A rattlesnake was killed over the weekend in the rear of a Spruce street residence, Oil City. A 51-inch rattler, measuring two and a half inches in thickness and carrying three rattles, was killed at 11:30 a. m. Sunday when a car passed over it. Oil City police were called and removed the dead snake to the police station where it attracted considerable attention. Oil City people are considerably agitated over the matter. They think it was brought to a junk yard with material from an oil lease.

ODD ORDINANCE INVOKED

Two transients are being held by Erie Railroad policemen at Meadville for violating a city ordinance which has not been invoked for several years. Picked off a freight train Sunday night in the Erie yards at Meadville and arraigned in police court were James Wilson, 19, of Memphis, Tenn., and Joseph Hughes, 30, of Portland, Ore. They were charged with riding trains to avoid payment of a fare—a count which city officials says has not been invoked for a number of years. The men were held pending a check of the freight car at its destination, Milwaukee, Wis. Railway officials there will check the car's contents against the bill of lading to see if anything is missing.

Chapter 28

CHRISTMAS, in Centerville, is a time of gray skies and "gentle-to-moderate rains," according to the local weather bureau. Snow is something so rare that when it does appear briefly, the young people are hysterical with excitement; freezes are almost equally as rare. The usual winter-time weather is mild, with occasional bracing, chilly winds.

Tonight, as though in deference to Betsy's homecoming, was such a night. The moon was old and worn, water-thin, and its light was pallid, like a thin wash of very old gold. The air was crisp and cold, and Betsy and Peter stood at the end of the walk, leaning on the gate.

Betsy gave a sigh of utter happiness and said, "Maybe Centerville isn't the most beautiful place in the world. Maybe it isn't big and important, but you'd have trouble convincing me it isn't."

Peter turned his sightless eyes upon her and grinned. "Were you homesick?"

"Let's not talk about gruesome things." They stood for a while in companionable silence, and then Peter said, "I've missed you like the dickens, Betsy."

"Did you, Pete? I missed you, too."

Once more there was a brief silence, and Peter's voice was a little husky when he said:

"Betsy, you're sweet—and so beautiful."

Betsy stared up at him, caught by astonishment. "Pete!" she gasped. "This is Betsy—remember both? The long-legged brat with braces on her teeth and carrots in her hair!"

Peter shook his head. "No, that was the Betsy who went to war with me!"

"Peter, who—I mean—"

"Bo Norris told me," he answered. "Quite a lad, Bo is. He came to see me a few days after you'd gone to Atlanta. It seems that there was something resting heavily on Bo's mind. He felt that—well, that complications might easily develop, and that it was his duty to clear them up before they could."

"Complications?" Betsy repeated.

Peter turned as though to look down at her, and the pale moonlight was reflected for an instant from his dark glasses.

"It seems that Bo was under no delusions about your being in love with him, Betsy. He knew very well that he was catching you on the rebound. When you said 'yes' to him the day before Marcia announced her engagement to me, Bo knew then—so he says—that you were not in love with him."

Betsy stood very still, her hands clenched about the pockets of the gate before her, her face turned away, as though he could see its expression and read there something she was not yet ready to reveal.

After a moment Peter said, "But, of course, Bo could be mistaken. Some very smart people have been."

"He wasn't mistaken," exclaimed Betsy. "But why was it necessary for him to tell you? I'm practically worn out from throwing myself at you. I've told you about a million times how much I loved you—only you wouldn't listen!"

PETER'S arms opened and she was in them. He held her close for a long moment. Then, before he kissed her, he put her a little away from him and looked down at her, as though his heart saw clearly what his eyes could not see.

"Betsy, I haven't any right to ask you to chain yourself to a man handicapped as I am." Peter's voice was grave now, almost solemn. "You're young and lovely and—"

"In love with you," she reminded him.

"Bless you for that," said Peter. "Only it's for always, Betsy," he added. "Or not at all. I couldn't have you for a little while and then if you found the going too tough, give you up. That I couldn't take."

"You'll never have to. Oh, Pete, can't you get it through that thick head of yours that I've been yours ever since the day I learned to spell 'differential'—and long before I ever knew what it meant? Oh, Peter, I forget that you are blind. It only makes me love you more, because you need me more, and there are more things I can do for you. I love you. I've always loved you. Can't you just accept that and stop torturing both of us with questions and answers that don't really mean anything?"

She was sobbing a little, and Peter's arms closed about her and held her very close.

"Oh, Peter, what a lot of time we've wasted! It should have been like this when you stepped off the train," she told him. Then she grinned and added unexpectedly, "I adore Bo Norris."

"Oh. So it's like that, is it?"

"Next to you, I mean. Bo, bless him, made you see things you refused to ever know what it meant? And now—when are we going to be married?"

Peter laughed. "Wait a minute, you forward creature, I'm supposed to ask you that!"

"Then go ahead and ask me. so I can say tomorrow, or the next day at the very latest!"

Peter's answer was to hold her still closer in his arms. But it seemed quite enough to Betsy.

MEET IN JAPAN

A Titusville soldier and a Titusville girl met recently in a Tokyo hospital, to the surprise of both. They were Pfc. Edward L. Waddingham, 20, and Pvt. Sally B. Brown, a WAC dental technician. Pfc. Waddingham was wounded below the knee on July 17. He was evacuated from Korea and taken to the hospital in Japan, where he expects to be for three or four more weeks. He wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Waddingham of 522 West Linden place, Titusville, that he was awfully glad to see someone from home. He had to have a little dental work done while he was in the hospital and met Pvt. Brown in the dentist's office. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren F. Brown of 315 Bank street, Titusville, and has been overseas since January.

THE RUSSIANS ARE COMING

The Russians are coming to San Francisco September 4 to fire some more anti-American propaganda, warns James Marlow, Associated Press feature writer in Washington, this time over the Japanese peace treaty which this country has taken the lead in working out.

On that date this country invited 50 of its war-time partners to the coast city to discuss, agree on, and sign the treaty which is mainly the work of John Foster Dulles, Republican lawyer working for the State Department.

Not every country is satisfied with all parts of the treaty which already has been distributed for examination and criticism in draft form. But the most strenuous objection has come from Russia.

Although the treaty has been in the works for a couple of years, it doesn't seem to have attracted much attention from, or discussion by, the American public.

Maybe that's because the war, now six years ended, seems far away, or Russia has become the big center of attention, or the public is just glad to get the loose ends of that war cleared up.

Or it may be the public feels the Japanese can be trusted now as an American ally in any trouble with Russia. And it's on that very point Russia will have plenty to say.

Under the treaty, as proposed by the U. S., the Japanese will be able to rearm and the U. S. will be able, by agreement with the Japanese, to keep large military forces in Japan just in case of trouble with Russia.

Japan will become this country's strongest Pacific outpost. After looking at the proposed treaty, the Russians at first said they wouldn't take part in the San Francisco meeting at all. Now they say they'll send a delegation.

Since the treaty points in dispute between this country and Russia are so fundamental, it's impossible to believe the Russians will change their minds or that this country will alter the treaty to please Russia.

So the only purpose for the Russian delegation in San Francisco must be to make more anti-American propaganda and perhaps try to line up some of the other 50 nations against the U. S.

WHY EDITORS NEED BIG WASTEBASKETS

Exactly how much printed material is circulated by government agencies? To find out, Congress's joint committee on reduction of nonessential federal expenditures last April bravely added its name to every government mailing list in sight, says Pathfinder news magazine.

Enough material poured in to fill a file case a week; during one two-day period, 2,226 separate pieces of mail were received. Last fortnight the committee ran out of file cases and quit.

Committee Chairman Harry Byrd (D-Va.) offered the senate one example. It was an Economic Cooperation Administration press release entitled: "ECA's Dilemma—Can Elephants and Water Buffalos Out-work Machinery?"

"The ECA," cried Byrd, "has found that elephants do not like to work in the hot sun, and that in March and April they should be sent to a rest camp, and also that they should be given about two weeks vacation again in October."

The day Korean truce talks resumed after a five-day break, General Nam Il, of North Korea sat for two hours and eleven minutes in stony silence. In the Communist world, this is known as negotiating. Wonder what a Communist thinks about at a time like that. He probably worries about what would happen to him back home if he opened his mouth before the planned period of strategic silence was up.

Up at Corydon where the Volunteer Fire Department is sponsoring Old Home Week they have secured the children's band from the Meadville I. O. O. F. Home for a concert this evening, which should prove a delightful musical affair. Indian Adoption ceremonies Sunday evening, as usual, will highlight the celebration.

Plan to "Shop and Save" in Warren Friday and Saturday — — — Dollar Days!

Hanging by a Hair

Here And There

Fifty years ago a group of young men left Warren for a camping expedition along Lake Erie near Buffalo, according to the following paragraph taken from The Evening Times of August 15, 1901:

A party of young men from the Y. M. C. A. went to Buffalo this morning, near where they will camp for the week. A site has been obtained from the Canadian government near Fort Erie. Here the men will pitch a tent, enjoy camping life and the exposition. A competent cook has been taken along, and together with the splendid equipment of the Y. M. C. A. will make the stay enjoyable. The following young men, are in the party: Edwin Lacy, Irwin Branch, Carl Marsh, Ernest Johnson, Frank Hesck, Walter Murphy, Earl Morrison, R. Z. Morrison, Burt Meacham, Ernest Johnson, John Darts, Warren Messerly, William Cable, Jr., William Slater, Robert Slater, George Langdale, William Cameron, P. L. Gillette, L. W. Archibald, W. C. Thomas and Mittie Baron. The address is "Warren Camp, Fort Erie, Canada."

And here's a paragraph immediately following the above, which we just can't resist printing, since it relates an interesting incident that occurred during the days when bicycling was a popular recreation in Warren: A good story is current of a well known young man who rides a bicycle and smokes a pipe. Sometimes he does both at one and the same time. Wednesday afternoon he had completed his "pipe" and carelessly placed it in his coat pocket. The pipe at once "got busy" and soon a long, thin trail of smoke spread out behind the wheelman, who could not imagine why everyone stopped to him and gesticulated so wildly. After covering nearly half the distance between Glade Run and Warren he noticed a smoky odor and seeing the populace looking backward he stopped and innocently inquired, "where is the fire?" It was about this time that he definitely and finally located the "fire," and for four and one-half seconds there were other things than smoke in the atmosphere. The odor lingered throughout the sixth ward all evening, and those who were not on the "inside" carelessly attributed it to "acid works."

This 'N That: We are reminded that the picnic of the First Presbyterian church is to be held August 25 at Mayville Park, and not Midway, as was erroneously stated in a "head" over an article regarding the event recently.

The Lewis Catering Service handled another of the larger picnics scheduled this season last Sunday when they served barbecued chicken dinners to a crowd of about 2,000 at the Clark Bros., outing in Olean, N. Y., and on the same day a group of the caterers served a similar menu for the Hammond Iron Works picnic at the Outing Club with about 300 in attendance. At the Olean gathering 150 gallons of clam chowder was served. . . . Lewis says the caterers will serve about 10,000 during the month, with a number of outings scheduled this week and next including the Penelope Employees at Wildcat Park, Ludlow, Thursday, 300; Warren Lodge of Elks, Saturday, Oakview Park, 250; Warren Axe & Tool, Friday (baked ham); the Grove City Country Club, Friday, 350; Eagles Club, Sunday, Oakview; the Sharon Steel Corp., Farrell, August 25, 2,500; and a wedding reception at Pittsfield the same day, when 175 will be served at the Pittsfield Inn. . . . Cards are being circulated advertising the 21st annual Elk Township Homecoming, Labor Day, at Scandia with the program starting at 10:30 o'clock at the church; dinner available by the Mission Church Ladies Aid at twelve; Farmers' parade followed by sports program at 1:30, and finally water battles by North Warren, Sugar Grove and Russell Volunteer Fire Departments. . . . Ray Eckhardt, up at the police station, is displaying an interesting picture of the Warren Interstate League baseball team of 1914, taken in front of the grandstand at the old park in Jamestown; the team was composed of the following: Warner, c.; Neuman, cf.; Thompson, p.; Ely, p.; Wycoff, cf.; Carling, 2b; Gravelle, c.; Brady, 1b; Davies, p.; Smith, p.; Webb, 3b and manager; Janis, ss; and Rawlins, lf.

Afterthoughts: An unusual sight is to be observed at the residence of J. H. Alexander, corner of East street and Fourth avenue, where a flower which grew from the top of one of the chimneys, is in bloom (we did not attempt to verify a report that it is a sunflower) . . . A pile of those attractive folders advertising Warren placed on a table at the McKean-Bradford airport building by the local Chamber of Commerce found many takers during the dedication ceremonies last weekend. . . . According to the Corry Journal two former Spring Creek residents really went all out to make sure they'd be back in time for the recent Old School Mates reunion at West Spring Creek, when Mrs. Nannue McClatchey Irvin and her sister, Miss Lillian McClatchey, both residents of Callahan, Fla., and former teachers in Spring Creek, made the trip by plane, and for Mrs. Irvin, who marked her 81st birthday anniversary today, it was her first trip by air. . . . Picnics galore today, with the PHC scheduled tomorrow evening at Crescent Park and still others over the weekend.

WASHINGTON COLUMN ★

Douglas Considered Arvey For One of Illinois Judgeships

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—It never got out, but Illinois Democratic National Committee member Jacob M. Arvey was given serious consideration for one of those three Illinois Federal Judgeships "nomination" by Sen. Paul Douglas. Boss Arvey had backed Senator Douglas for Democratic primary nomination in 1948, against Truman administration opposition. Douglas won.

Arvey was known to want the judgeship, though he heads a flourishing law firm in Chicago. He resigned his Cook County Democratic machine chairmanship after the 1950 elections. For Senator Douglas to back Arvey for a judgeship would have been natural. But in the end it was decided this would look too much like political debt paying. He compromised by picking Cook County Circuit Court Judge Benjamin P. Epstein, brother of an Arvey law partner.

The men Senator Douglas finally backed were a Catholic, a Jew and a Protestant. This was to keep all religious-political factions happy. The Illinois Bar Association finally backed two of the Douglas candidates, William H. King, Jr., and Judge Epstein. President Truman and Senator Douglas agreed on the third man, Joseph P. Ferry.

THERE'S something missing from the usual advance stories of American Federation of Labor's annual convention. It will be held this year at San Francisco, opening Sept. 17. Normally, about now, there would be rumors about President William Green retiring. There have always been such rumors for the past ten years or so. But not this year.

Defense Mobilizer C. E. Wilson finally got away for his first vacation in four years. Ever since 1948, the former General Electric president and Mrs. Wilson have rented a house on Long Island for two weeks in August.

And for the three previous years, something always came up which made it necessary for him to cancel his vacation plans. This year he decided he just had to get some rest.

There's growing speculation among people who follow atomic energy matters that the Russian "atomic explosion" of September, 1949, was not a bomb at all, but a premature, uncontrolled or accidental blast. There is no scientific doubt that this was an atomic blast. But there has been no such indisputable scientific evidence that the Russians have had a second explosion in the intervening two years.

NEVADA Sen. Pat McCarran's Internal Security Subcommittee, which is investigating subversive influences in the Institute of Pacific Relations, put great stock in the testimony of ex-Soviet Gen. Alexander G. Barmine. Having broken with the Reds, General Barmine is now head of the Russian section in State Department's Voice of America. If General Barmine were applying for admission to the United States today, however, he couldn't get in. He would be kept out by Senator McCarran's own immigration act, which bans admission to the U. S. of any ex-Communist.

Five out of six Washington press and radio correspondents think Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois is the best senator. Three out of four correspondents think Wisconsin Republican Joe McCarthy the worst senator. These are highlights of a poll conducted by Pageant magazine.

It shows quite a change from a similar poll two years ago. Then Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio was considered best senator. In the new poll, he rates both fourth best and fourth worst. Second and third best are Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Wayne Morse of Oregon. Second and third worst are Pat McCarran of Nevada and William E. Jenner of Indiana.

Civil Defense Day Friday, August 24

More than 200 Civil Defense officials from the 67 counties of Pennsylvania will be guests of the State Council of Civil Defense, the Pennsylvania National Guard and the United States Army when "Civil Defense Day" will be held at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation August 24th as a part of a three day civil and military demonstration culminating with the annual "Governor's Day on Sunday, August 26th, when Governor John S. Fine, Commander-in-Chief, will review the National Guard troops."

Declaring that the meeting of Civil Defense officials would be the largest such meeting yet to be held in this Commonwealth, Dr. Richard Gerstell, Director of the State Council of Civil Defense, stated that "live" exhibits and demonstrations would be held on Friday to acquaint county Civil Defense Directors and their Deputies with actual problems of rescue and disaster work.

"We will show our officials just what it may mean to have to cope with a major disaster" Dr. Gerstell said. "We hope that they will be able to take home with them some conception of the intricate planning involved which they will be able to transmit to their volunteer workers in the counties."

"We will show by actual demonstration," the Director continued, "what it really means to provide for a thousand persons. We will show just how many tons of food it will take to feed that number for a three day period. We will stockpile the thousands of blankets required, all of the medical supplies that will be used to care for the wounded and disabled."

"We expect to have fire apparatus on hand that would put out the fires that could be expected to start in event of a disaster. We will show Civil Defense in action." Dr. Gerstell pointed out that while an atomic bomb or bombs would probably be dropped over a critical target in event of war, that no section of the state would be immune to the possibility of being bombed.

More than 200 County Directors of Civil Defense, their Deputies and other specialized civil defense personnel are expected to attend.

Saturday August 25th, the second day of the show will feature a tour of the facilities of the military reservation and the Civil Air Patrol will give a demonstration of

Lions of Tionesta Hold Picnic - Meet At Boy Scout Camp

Oil City Derrick: Camp Tionesta was the meeting place for Tionesta Lions club on Monday evening, with the camping staff of the Allegheny Council of Boy Scouts serving as hosts.

Dinner was prepared by the camp cooks in the kitchen completely equipped with electric range, electric water heaters, refrigerator, and walk-in cooler.

President F. J. Bovard opened the meeting by calling on Edward N. Young, camp director and assistant executive of the Allegheny County Boy Scout Council.

Director Young welcomed and declared open house to the 45 Lions and their guests. He called their attention to the activities field near the kitchen where are located the axe yard, rope working area, volleyball courts, horseshoe courts, and skid field for the practicing of fly and bait casting. At the west end of the field near Glassner Run is the future soft ball diamond.

On the water front area, a strip of the old Tionesta-Nebraska concrete road serves as a convenient site for the headquarters of water sports activities. A floating dock has been constructed for boats and canoes. An inverted "F" floating dock provides a protected area for teaching swimming as well as deep water for swimming and diving.

Young stated that the 50-yard rifle range along the road entering camp is one of the most popular places among the Scouts.

Besides the kitchen, a building housing the trading post, office, photographic dark room, and supply rooms has been completed. A health lodge is under construction, but will not be used this season according to Young.

From a capacity of 96 Scouts this season, the camp director said that plans call for a capacity of 200 next year and 500 in 1953.

PAUL EVAN LEHMAN

Chapter 1
THOSE who knew him casually called him Tex. To the few who thought they knew him more or less intimately he had another name, Brent. They assumed that Brent was a surname but they were wrong; his name was Brent Hollister and he came from Arizona and not from Texas, but he kept the Hollister to himself because the name would immediately associate him with another Hollister and that would mean sudden death.

Night had fallen and he stood in front of a dark building and gazed across the street at a doorway which opened on stairs leading to the hall over Hannigan's store. Above that doorway a smoky kerosene torch illuminated a canvas strainer bearing the words SAM CARTER'S LYCEUM PLAYERS; inside, a fat, bald-headed man sat behind a table with a cashbox on it and standing near him, lynx-eyed and alert, was Cliff Durham, the town marshal.

Customers went through the doorway, paid their admissions and stamped up the stairs after receiving a cherubic smile and a hearty thank-you from Sam Carter.

A girl came running down the stairs and the light from the bracket lamp above Sam's head caught and held her in its yellow embrace. She was tall for a girl, but slim and graceful, with a bright face and a cluster of dark curls falling over one shoulder. Brent stared interestedly; there was something clean and vibrant about her which drew him. She spoke to Sam and he nodded and she ran up the stairs, slithering-clad ankles twinkling.

Brent took a bundle from beneath his arm and shook it out. It was a black cloth sack some six feet long and two wide. He slipped it over his head, thrusting his arms through the cut for the purpose. It covered him from the top of his hat to the toes of his boots, and there was a slit through which he could see. He raised the bottom of the robe and drew the .44 Colt, then moved across the street and mounted the store steps at an angle designed to keep him out of the range of vision of Sam and the marshal.

Brent drifted silently backward, the black hood blending with the shadows that engulfed the store entrance. Cliff came into the light and Carter came out after him. Sam said, "I'm much obliged to you, Marshal, for your help. I'd like to give you a little—uh—token of my appreciation. Say, five dollars?"

He was looking questioningly at Cliff, the flare illuminating his anxious face, but Durham did not answer. Sam raised the lid of the cash box fumbled with its contents, then drew out a gold piece. He dropped it into Cliff's extended palm and Cliff said, "Keep comin'. I'll tell you when to stop."

"It's robbery," moaned Sam.

The sheriff's glinting eyes stabbed at the dark-robed figure.

on his hip. He was fast, but he didn't go through with the draw. The light fanning out from the flare showed him a hand with a leveled gun in it and that gun was pointed at his stomach.

Brent said, "Get behind him, fatty, and lift that gun out of the holster. Chuck it into the street and feel him over for others. Hands up, you!"

Carter obeyed and Brent came slowly forward, the gun still pointed at Cliff's stomach. He said, "Turn around, both of you."

Carter turned instantly; Durham, reluctantly, his glinting eyes stabbing at the dark-robed figure until the last minute. Brent moved forward, raised his Colt and struck just back of Cliff's right ear. The marshal folded up like a wet sack. Brent bent over him, took a pair of handcuffs from his belt, then said to Sam, "Back to the stable; I'll carry the baby. You might drop it."

The gun muzzle nudged Sam in the back and Brent heard him groan as he passed back the cash box.

A hundred feet down the alley he wiggled out of the black robe, rolled it into a bundle and put it, together with the cash box, under an arm. He walked to the end of town and halted before a small, neat house. There was a light in the parlor and he moved silently to a window and looked in. Luella Roselle, in robe and slippers, was curled up on a divan smoking a cigarette. She was waiting for him according to plan.

BRENT pushed the black robe into the shadows beneath the window and went up on the front porch. He rapped sharply and presently a low, husky voice asked, "Who is it?" and he answered, "Tex." Lu unlocked and opened the door and he went inside, carrying the box. She closed and locked the door and turned to him, and he said, "I got it," and tapped the box.

She said, "Go into the living-room and sit down; I'll be with you in a moment." She took the cash box from him and he went into the room and sat down on a divan. Lu came in, drew the shades, then went to a cabinet at one side of the room and got out bottle and glasses. She poured drinks and brought them over to the divan. She handed him a glass and sat down beside him. She said, "Luck!" and he repeated, "Luck!" and he grinned at her.

Lu liked that grin. It lifted the left corner of his mouth slightly higher than the right and the eyebrow on that side climbed upward. It lent him an impish look. And Brent was thinking, This is what I've been angling for—the chance to be with her alone, to win her confidence. She must know the man I'm looking for; if Jack has told anybody, he's told her.

A good sign to "go" by!

THIS shining emblem "GMC" is the sparkling sign of the fastest growing line of trucks in the land—with sales growth unmatched this year by any other manufacturer. The reasons for this are sound ones.

For in the chassis of a GMC you find "long-time, stay-with" stamina—truck-building that dares comparison with anything on the roads today.

Under the GMC hood you find real power—the kind of truck-built power it takes to keep goods moving year after year. Whether it's a nimble 1/2 to 2-tonner with horsepower unsurpassed in its class, or the fabulous two-cycle Diesel which is outselling, outperforming every other make—a GMC puts more "go" to the load! And in the cabs—drivers who work in comfort and safety. They have the look of men who know their truck will get the job done quicker and better.

You'll feel the same way when you try a GMC yourself. Come in—compare the facts, the features, the way they haul. Listen to the savings talk.

Eleanor M. Lucas Is Summer Bride Of Robert Luker

Announcement is made of the marriage at West Chester, Pa., on Saturday, August 11, of Miss Eleanor M. Lucas, daughter of Mrs. Lina E. Lundmark Lucas, of Warren, and Harry C. Lucas, of Glen Mills, Pa., to Robert Nelson Luker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Luker, of Warren.

The marriage took place at high noon in the First Baptist church of West Chester with the pastor, the Rev. Malcolm J. MacQueen officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was most attractive in a gown of white lace, with Juliette cap of blue velvet and matching slippers and accessories. She carried a white Bible fastened with a cascade of miniature white rose buds. The bride's only attendant was Miss Jeanne Rodabach of West Chester, and the bridegroom was attended by Jerome B. Jones, of Oxford, Pa.

A luncheon for members of the immediate families and a few friends was held at the Dutch Cupboard Inn at Coatesville following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Luker will reside in Warren at 30½ Walnut street.

BRIDE-ELECT IS HONORED AT SHOWER

Miss Rose Pellegrino, of Sheffield, who will become the bride of Ralph D'Agostino, of Buffalo, N. Y., on August 25 at St. Anthony's church in Sheffield at a nine a. m. open church ceremony, was honored at a miscellaneous shower recently by Buffalo friends.

Mrs. Gene D'Agostino, Mrs. Frank D'Agostino, Mrs. Theodore Biemek and Mrs. Elizabeth Sestito were hostesses for the affair given at Costine's Hall in Buffalo. Summer flowers were used in pretty decoration on the luncheon table, and the honored guest was presented a pom pom corsage, as well as many lovely gifts.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Highhouse, 606 Pennsylvania avenue, east, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on Sunday with a lawn party for friends and relatives at their summer cottage at Russell.

The buffet table, decorated in silver and white, was centered with a lovely anniversary cake. White candles were used to complete the setting. The honored couple received many lovely gifts and best wishes from their guests.

GREAT BOOKS MEETING

The Great Books discussion group will meet Thursday evening in the Jefferson Room of the Warren Public Library at 7:30 o'clock. The reading for the meeting is Elements of Chemistry by Antoine Lavoisier.

This book considers the following questions: "How exact is science?" "Can it solve all our problems?" "What's in a name?" "How important are words?" "How do you know you think straight?"

Anyone interested is invited to join the group for the discussion. 8-14-51

ICE CREAM SOCIAL

Russell, Aug. 15—The Ladies' Aid of the Russell Volunteer Fire Department is sponsoring an ice cream social to be held tomorrow evening on Sweeney's lawn from 7:00 until 9:00 p. m. In case of rain the affair will be held in the fire hall. The Russell band will give an outdoor concert at this time, and money raised will be used toward buying uniforms for the band.

Children Demand (and Get) Far Too Much Entertainment

A GROUP of mothers was conversationally kicking around the idea that they were all making the mistake of knocking themselves out to keep their children constantly amused and entertained. When they finished talking, they all agreed that they were working too hard at keeping their children happy. "It's gotten so," one mother confessed, "that if every day I don't do something special for the children, like letting them see a movie, or go swimming, or to the park, or whatever they happen to demand, they think I'm being mean and unfair. They have to be entertained constantly or they're just plain discontented."

A lot of today's mothers realize the truth of that situation, but few of them ever do anything about it, but admit that they think they are making a mistake.

Why, if they feel that way, do they continue to see that their children are constantly entertained, even if it is just a matter of buying them enough comic books to keep them happy?

CHILDREN NOW HAVE UPPER HAND
WELL, it is because children today have the upper hand. They are given so much, they quickly grow to expect it as their due.

And once they start expecting to be constantly entertained, Mama's life isn't worth living if she doesn't give in to them.

So they get what they want because at the moment it's easier for Mama to give in to them. It is easier to keep them entertained—whether by television, comic books, movies, or whatever pleases their fancy at the moment—than to listen to complaints that they haven't anything to do.

So Mama is easy for the small fry to handle. She may realize that what she is doing isn't really best for the children for they depend more and more on being entertained than on entertaining themselves, but it is too much trouble to hold out against them.

Summer Meeting Of BPW Is Held

The August dinner meeting of the Warren Business and Professional Women's Club was held at six o'clock last evening at the YWCA activities building.

Fifty members and guests were present for the dinner, which was held in place of the usual August picnic. Garden flowers were used in attractive table decoration, and club officers were in charge.

The evening's program was highlighted by the presence of Genevieve Lataste, France, and Erich Grabner, Austria, foreign exchange students who are spending their time in the United States visiting at various Warren homes. The two students gave interesting talks about their home countries and current conditions in France and Austria.

Ellen Thoresen and Ruth Anderson showed beautiful colored slides of western states and of Mexico, and to conclude the evening Margaret Drivas led the group in singing many songs.

MENU SUGGESTIONS

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor

CHICKEN is plentiful and macaroni and noodles are budget sources of good nutrition. Combine the two into satisfying summertime party dishes.

Noodles With Hungarian Chicken (Makes 4-5 servings)

One-quarter cup fat, 1 2½-pound chicken, cut up; ½ cup minced onion, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons hot water, 1 tablespoon flour, ½ cup cold water, ¼ teaspoon lemon juice, 1 cup sour cream, 1 tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 8 ounces egg noodles.

In a large skillet, melt fat; add chicken and saute until browned on all sides. Add onion and cook until tender. Sprinkle paprika and 1 teaspoon salt over chicken. Add 2 tablespoons hot water, cover tightly and simmer 25-30 minutes, or until chicken is tender.

When tender, remove chicken and place in a covered casserole to keep warm. Mix together flour and cold water until smooth. Add to liquid remaining in skillet. Simmer, stirring constantly, until thickened. Stir in lemon juice. Just before serving, slowly stir in your cream and heat but do not boil.

About 10 minutes before chicken is done, add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Arrange noodles in a ring around edge of serving dish; place chicken in center and pour gravy over chicken.

Spaghetti Tetrazzini (Makes 10-12 servings)

One 4-pound dressed stewing chicken, 2 quarts water, 1 tablespoon salt, 8 ounces spaghetti, ¼ pound butter or margarine, 1 medium green pepper, minced; 1 medium onion, chopped; 1 4-ounce can sliced mushrooms; 1 egg, flour, 1 pint milk, ½ pound American cheese, cubed; ½ pound sharp cheddar cheese, cubed; salt, freshly ground pepper.

Into a kettle, combine chicken, water and salt; cover. Place over low heat and cook until chicken is tender. Remove meat from bone while warm; cut into cubes. Remove excess fat from broth. In the kettle, measure 1 quart chicken broth, bring to rapid boil. Gradually add spaghetti so that broth continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender.

In a large saucepan, melt butter or margarine over low heat; add green pepper, onion and mushrooms; cook until tender. Add milk and blend. Add milk and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Stir in cheese and continue to cook until cheese is melted.

Combine chicken, spaghetti and cheese sauce; mix well, but lightly. Add salt and pepper, if desired. Pour into 3-quart casserole and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 40 minutes.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Stewed berries, ready-to-eat cereal, cinnamon toast, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Seafood salad, lettuce, sliced tomatoes, French bread, butter or fortified margarine, oatmeal cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Noodles with Hungarian chicken, buttered peas, orange and watercress salad, ice cream parfait, coffee, milk.

Former Pupils of Professor Dunn Meet in Garland

The fortieth annual reunion of the former pupils of the late Professor C. H. Dunn was held on August 11 at the Community Hall in Garland. Between 50 and 70 persons were in attendance. However, had it not been for the Erie Centennial and the Youngville parade, many more would have been present.

A delicious picnic lunch was served at one p. m., with fresh blackberry pie as the highlight of the menu.

The business meeting was called by the president, Gelin Carlson, and sixteen pupils responded to the roll call. Secretary Daisy Campbell read letters of regret in not being able to attend from the following: Mayne Gardner, Columbus, Ohio; Lizzie Brewer, Des Moines, Mich.; Carl Rosen, Erie; Dauphine Bullock, Mayville, N. Y.; I. B. Barth, Chickasha, Okla.; Homer Mead, Turlock, Calif.

Present officers were re-elected: President, Gelin Carlson; secretary, Laura Scranton; secretary, Daisy Campbell. It was voted to hold next year's reunion at First Saturday in August in the Garland Community Hall. An article paying tribute to Mr. Dunn by Arch Bristow was read; also, a poem "Well Dunn, Well Done" was read by Ella Mays. Harry Johnson was chosen as chairman for next year's program.

Songs, "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree" and "School Days" were sung, closing with "Till We Meet Again." Group pictures were taken.

Pupils and friends were in attendance from Rochester, N. Y.; Meadville, Titusville, Corry, Spring Creek, Sparta, Geneva, Torpedo, Tidouate, Irvine, Youngville, Clarendon, Sheffield, Erie and McKean. Coming from the greatest distance was Alta Jensen Ewing and daughter and two grandchildren from Rochester, N. Y.

WHITE FAMILY

Fifty-two members of the White family met at Island Park on Sunday for their annual family reunion, with seventy relatives and three guests present.

Following a delicious dinner, a business meeting was held at which time the following officers were elected: President, Freeman White, of Corry; vice president, Dana Larimer, Berea, Ohio; secretary, Grace Miller, Warren; treasurer, Lila Knapp, Celoron. The historian reported in the past year: two deaths, five births and one marriage.

Coming the longest distance were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ring and two sons, Barwick, Georgia. The oldest ones present were Mrs. Zenobia Chappel, Grand Valley, and Mrs. Myrtle Brown, Endeavor. The youngest present was one year old Robert Ring.

The next White reunion will be held the second Sunday in August, 1952.

HE'S ON THE BOLL—Disc jockey Ed "Boll Weevil" Keane, of Hartigan, Tex., made the mistake of declaring on his radio program that "Anyone can pick a bale of cotton in a week." Veteran cotton growers challenged him to do it, offering $1000 in cash and prizes if he made good. Here, with three more days to go, he mops his brow and decides it isn't as easy as he thought.

What Would Happen
If Advertising Was Discontinued?

Radio broadcasts would stop. Newspapers and magazines would cut down in size and raise their subscription prices. Business would drop and sales personnel would be laid off. Production would slow down and business paralysis would set in. There would be no incentive to improve old products nor make better ones, and there would be no effective way of creating a demand for the new. Our economy is built around aggressive selling and advertising. It would go to pieces without them.

enate Investigating Committee Begins
Hearings on Crime in New York

Washington, Aug. 15—(P)—With Irving Sherman in the witness chair, the senate crime committee began new hearings today on crime conditions in New York City. At Sherman's request, the committee banned newsreels, radio and TV.

Sherman, long sought by the lawmakers, was described by the committee as "a known gambler and intimate of racketeers." He also has been named as a close friend of Ambassador to Mexico William Dwyer.

Radio broadcasters and newsreel men were set for coverage of the hearings when Sherman protested against them, and the committee banned them. Sherman also protested against use of TV but this was an academic issue as no live TV cameras were present.

Richard G. Moser, committee counsel, told newsmen that "TV roadcasters had decided it was of worth the expense of telecasting these hearings."

Some previous crime committee sessions were seen by millions of V viewers.

Sherman, a stocky, nattily-dressed, tanned man with thinning hair, gave his address as 299 West 23rd street, New York.

His attorney, Louis Waldman of New York, made the formal protest about TV, radio and newsreels. He said his client did not want to participate in a "spectacle" and that he would not be able to testify in orderly fashion under Kleig lights and with millions of people watching him on TV.

Ross Bailey, reporting for the Pennsylvania Fish Commission, announced that the past trout season had been a good one for most anglers and that the fish placed in county streams exceeded any previous year's stocking. 75,250 legal trout were put in Warren county streams, of which 61,000 were supplied by the Fish Commission and the balance by the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service. Ross stated that both black bass and walleyed pike fishing had been particularly good in the river and that some of the pike had been running very large.

Bill Overturf, Pennsylvania Game Commission, advised that Warren county's allocation of doe hunting permits would be 9,810—of which 60 per cent would be available to Warren county residents and the balance to non-residents. It was felt that the number of permits available to local residents would be more than ample to satisfy everyone. Bill commended Harry Schmidt and Howard Landers on the excellent job they are doing in raising ring-necked pheasants for the club. He stated that they had lost only 20 birds to date and that this is an excellent record.

An educational film, "Liberia, Africa's Only Republic," was greatly enjoyed. It depicted the life and activity on a Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. plantation in Liberia.

Under terms of the measure bonds will be issued for the entire turnpike system, rather than for specific stretches of it such as the eastern extension to Philadelphia and the western extension to the Ohio state line.

The house completed passage, and sent to the governor, a bill for an east-west turnpike across the northern section of the state from Erie to Scranton. Other north-south legs connecting Erie and Scranton with the main turnpike across the southern section of the state already have been authorized but not yet started.

MORE THAN SCORE LOSE LIVES IN B-50 CRASH—Firemen pour water on the smoldering ruins of a Boeing B-50 bomber as they search for bodies in the wreckage of a frame apartment house into which the plane crashed just a mile from the downtown business district of Seattle, Wash. Witnesses said the four-engine bomber which had taken off from Boeing Field, Seattle, grazed a nearby brewery and then smashed into the three-story, 49-unit building and burst into flames. While between 20 to 30 apartment residents were still unaccounted for, the plane's crew of six and five of the tenants were known to be dead. Cause of the crash was undetermined.

Northern Turnpike
Bill Goes to Fine

Harrisburg, Aug. 15—(P)—A bill combining all projects of the Pennsylvania turnpike for financing became law today as legislation to extend further the famed toll road churned through the general assembly.

The finance consolidation bill, signed by Gov. John S. Fine also raised the salary of Chairman Thomas J. Evans of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission from $12,000 to $15,000 a year and that of other members from $10,000 to $13,000.

Under terms of the measure bonds will be issued for the entire turnpike system, rather than for specific stretches of it such as the eastern extension to Philadelphia and the western extension to the Ohio state line.

Death Claims Wife of Former School Supt.

(From Page One)

Mrs. Pressel was born M. Louise Zulick on October 25, 1877 in Orwigsburg, Pa., the daughter of Thomas B. and Fannie (Schoener) Zulick. She received her education in the public schools at Orwigsburg and was assistant postmistress there before moving to Warren.

Mr. Pressel was principal of the Orwigsburg schools when they were married, December 27, 1905, and they came to Warren the next year, 1906, where Mr. Pressel was an able and beloved instructor during two generations of students, retiring in 1934 as superintendent of Warren Borough Schools.

Besides the bereaved husband, Penrose W. M. Pressel, at the family home, 9 Conewango Place, Mrs. Pressel is mourned by her son, Thomas Z. Pressel, Lansdale, Pa.; and by her daughter, Mrs. Duane W. Murray, Meadville, Pa. There are three grandchildren, Mary Katherine Pressel, Louise J. Murray and Douglas F. Murray.

Mrs. Pressel is also survived by one sister, Adele F. Zulick of Orwigsburg, and by two brothers, Lin B. Zulick of Orwigsburg, and Dr. J. Donald Zulick of Jenkintown, Pa.

Friends may call at the Lutz-VerMilyea Funeral Home between the hours of seven and nine o'clock Thursday evening, and funeral services will be conducted there at two o'clock Friday afternoon by Mrs. Pressel's pastor, the Rev. Edward K. Rogers, for whom she often expressed a deep liking and respect.

Commitment will be in Oakland Cemetery, and will be private.

THANKS FOR GLADS
The Times-Mirror offices are beautiful today through the thoughtfulness of Sam Gerardi, 300 Walnut street, and Mrs. Meryl W. Carpenter, 7 Carpenter street, each having brought in a large bouquet of gladioli. The gardens at their respective homes are beautiful at this time with glads even larger than usual. Our thanks to each for these beautiful bouquets.

MAY OPEN BRIDGE
The contractor in charge of painting the Fifth avenue bridge advised Borough Manager L. M. McConnell this morning that the bridge, which has been closed for some time, may be reopened late today if weather conditions permit the men to complete their work. If the Fifth avenue bridge is opened today, the Third avenue bridge will be closed early Thursday and the painting work on this bridge will be started.

ENLISTMENT CHANGE
Many young men who are interested in the possibility of enlisting do not know that a 24-month enlistment is open at the present time, according to Sgt. James Horony, recruiter in charge of the local Army and Air Force recruiting office in the Post Office building. Sgt. Horony said this morning that this 24-month enlistment has been open for several weeks. Men of draft age, 19 to 26, are eligible. Also, men who have received their pre-induction notice to report for a physical examination, or who have had their physical, are eligible to enlist through the last day of August.

Obituaries

FRANK W. COX
Frank W. Cox, 66, lifelong resident of Warren County, passed away at his home in Russell at 12:30 p. m. Tuesday.

He leaves to survive him one sister, Mrs. Flora Hatch, and several nieces and nephews.

Services in his memory will be held on Thursday at two p. m. at the Lutz-VerMilyea Funeral Home, the Rev. John Buck, pastor of the Russell Methodist church, officiating. Burial will be in Pine Grove cemetery, Russell. Friends may call at the funeral home at the regular visiting hours, after two p. m. today.

HARRY FOLLETT

Harry Follett, Market street extension, passed away at Warren General Hospital at 3:30 a. m. today, following a brief illness.

Mr. Follett was born in Warren, April 12, 1889, and had been a lifelong resident of the community.

The deceased is survived by four brothers: Amel Follett, 1017 Conewango avenue; John Follett, of Tidouette; Albert and Edward Follett, both of Marcus Hook, Pa.; and by two sisters: Mrs. George Wollaston, 14 No. Marion street; and Mrs. Edith Henderson, Clarendon. There are several nieces and nephews.

Removal has been made to the Templeton Funeral Home where friends will be received at the usual hours after 7 p. m. today, and where funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday. Rev. John Bergner, pastor of the Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed Church, will officiate.

FOOLS SAFECRACKERS

Pittsburgh, Aug. 15—(P)—Safe crackers were fooled because two employees of the Rooney-McGinley Boxing Club decided not to store $7,500 receipts from the Bob Baker-Omelio Agramonte fight in the safe. The would-be thieves broke into the fight club headquarters and cracked the safe early yesterday. But they found only $25. Francis Fogarty, club treasurer, and Dan Rooney, ticket manager, said they decided to hide the money when they noticed they were followed from the Heidelberg arena, where the fight was held.

PERSONAL ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Still and family, Connecticut avenue, have returned from Washington, D. C. and Virginia, where they spent a week.

Loren Sadler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Sadler, Russell, has left for State College, where he has been granted a fellowship by General Motors.

Miss Maude Thelma, Philadelphia, her sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Armstrong, Hatfield, and Mrs. Emma Keener, Masontown, have arrived to visit the Perry Thelma family on Miller Hill road, also other relatives including Carl Thelma, Ted Thelma, and Mrs. Marshall Mathis and family, in Warren. They came here after visiting with relatives in Warren, O., driving over the Turnpike from Valley Forge to the East Stanton interchange. The visitors with other relatives enjoyed a family picnic and gathering Tuesday evening at the Perry Thelma home.

Senate Nears Final
Vote on Oleo Bill

Harrisburg, Aug. 15—(P)—A house bill to permit the sale of yellow oleomargarine to Pennsylvania housewives was advanced today toward a final vote in the senate.

The senate agriculture committee quickly approved the measure yesterday the day after it had passed the house.

A similar bill is on the senate calendar but final action probably will be laid aside to clear the way for the advancing house bill.

Sen. George B. Scarlett (R-Chester), chairman of the senate agriculture committee, told a reporter that he would make a "final study" of the house bill to make certain it conforms with the senate bill originally put forth by one of his own committee members.

Both bills would permit the sale of yellow oleo in one-pound packages in stores only. The ban on serving colored oleo in public eating places would be continued.

VOTER LIST AT COURT HOUSE IS REOPENED

New registrations, changes of address, or changes of party affiliation are now being accepted by the County Registration Office in the courthouse.

The voter lists were closed for a two-month period from June 2 to July 30 for the Primary Election, but now have been reopened.

Registration, or changes of address or party affiliation may be made at the office any week day until October 1, when the lists will again be closed for the November General Election.

REMODELING PLANT

A. J. Lyon and R. B. Jimison, the new owners of the Kay & Miller Ice Cream Co., Pennsylvania avenue, east, at Canton street, are completing extensive alterations at their plant. The interior and one side of the building have been altered to permit the installation of the new "tasty freeze" equipment which is so popular in Bradford and Jamestown, which will enable the clerks to fill cones and containers with fresh ice cream directly from the continuous freezers which are now being put in. Comfort rooms have been added for the convenience of the traveling public. Messrs. Lyon and Jimison took possession July 28th, after purchasing the business from M. C. Kay, 105 Redwood street.

Washington, D. C., has 50 miles of bridge paths.

THE MARKETS

New York, Aug. 15—(P)—Prices were narrowly mixed today in the stock market with trading quiet. At the start there was a slightly higher tendency, but the frequent appearance of minus signs on the tape soon weighed the balance the other way. Missouri Pacific was active and off between $3 and $4 a share at times in response to a decision by a three-judge U. S. court of appeals in St. Louis upholding a U. S. district court reorganization order issued last October. National Power & Light, which lost 1/4 yesterday at 2 1/4, had a big burst of activity in early trading when it lost as much as 1/2. American Telephone, tenth most active issue yesterday when it touched a new high, moved farther ahead today in moderately active trading.

NEW PROCESS EXPANDS

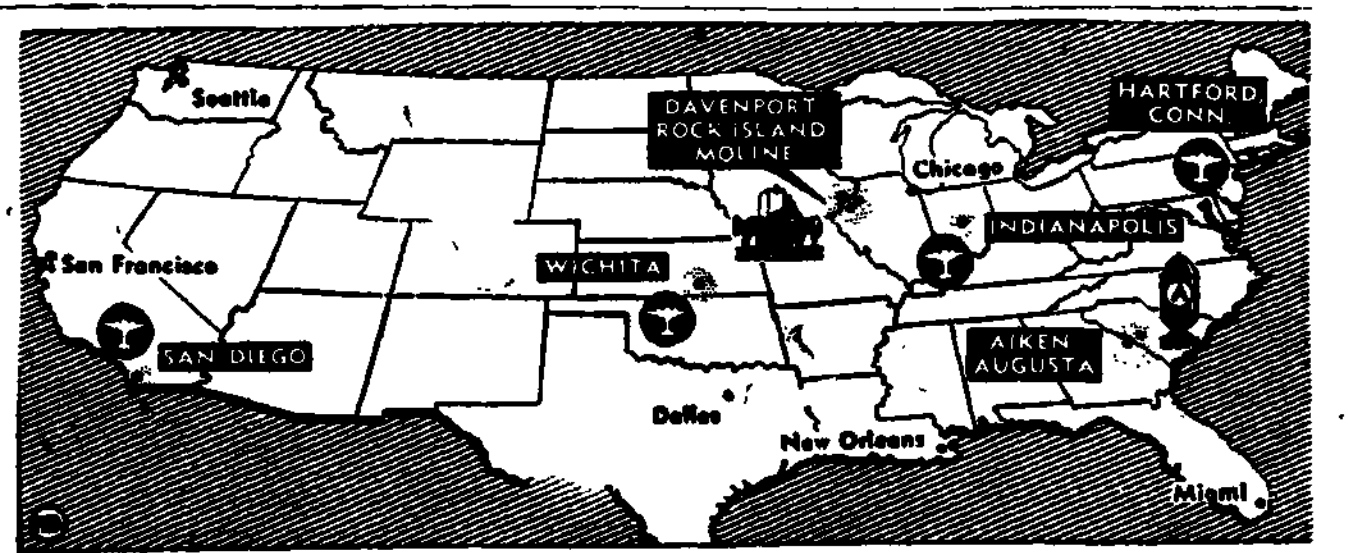

Excavation was to be started this afternoon on the basement for a new building for the New Process Company at the rear of its present quarters on the east side of Hickory street. The new structure, when completed by the Platt Corporation of Erie, will give New Process an additional 25,000 square feet of space for additional offices, and as a warehouse and receiving department. It is to be partly one and partly two stories in height and will be of reinforced concrete. Two old brick buildings already owned and used by New Process were razed to make room for the new building.

ACCIDENT ON ROUTE 69

Pennsylvania State Police were called to investigate an accident on Route 69, two miles south of Sugar Grove, at 3:50 p. m. Tuesday when $1,000 damage was done to the two cars involved. State Police reported that the mishap occurred when a car driven by Carroll B. Stockton of Sugar Grove, was struck, in making a left turn, by a jeep driven by Joseph Strongren of Jamestown, and owned by the D. B. A. Peck News Company, Jamestown. Strongren attempted to pass the Stockton car when the turn was being made. The jeep was damaged to the extent of $800 and the Stockton car to the extent of $200, according to State Police.

"CHURCH" FOR THE AUTO AGE—The Rev. Dr. Ernest Lyman Mills, pastor of Dorchester Methodist Church, conducts services at Boston's first "drive-in-church." The congregation, many of them in bathing suits and play clothes, heard the sermon through individual speakers hooked into autos in the same manner as for open-air movies. The drive-in-church is an idea taking hold in more and more cities as ministers seek to compete with the Sunday driving urge.

WHERE MANPOWER SHORTAGES THREATEN—The Newsmap above shows six critical defense areas where actual or expected manpower shortages threaten to "impede essential activities," according to a survey by the Bureau of Employment Security. Booming aircraft production contributed to the shortage in four cities (indicated by star symbols). Shortage in the Alken-Augusta area is caused by "tremendous demand" for labor at the new Savannah River atomic plant, while workers are needed in the Davenport-Rock Island-Moline area for the machine industry and government arsenal. The bureau's survey showed a tighter labor supply in two-thirds of the nation's major production centers, resulting from bigger defense hiring and seasonal swings in construction and agriculture.

Football Gets Glittering Start With 18th All-Star Contest

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

CHICAGO (NEA)—Maybe this will get the West Point cribbing scandal off page one.

Anyway, it's time for another football season, and Chicago's All-Star Game annually gets the blocking and tackling off to a spectacular start.

The 18th edition under the glittering lights of mammoth Soldier Field on the night of Aug. 17 gives the College All-Stars as stern an assignment as the graduates have ever had. They oppose the professional Cleveland Browns, the only champions the All-America Conference had in four years, who made it five straight by putting the National League in its place last trip.

The All-Stars will deploy against the Browns before the biggest audience that ever saw a football game. Upward of 90,000 will sit in with television swelling the number of spectators to a record high.

With the profit earmarked for Chicago's United, Catholic and Jewish Charities, the receipts, including the intake from video and radio, will hit $450,000.

It will be strictly a T battle between sides drilled by Yale's Herman Hickman and Paul Brown.

QUARTERBACKS will do more running this season, for rushing linemen and the double teaming of passers leave the defense open. Brown fields his champion Browns intact, sparked by Otto Graham, and the ramming Marion Motley and Emerson Cole alternating at fullback, and with The Toe Groza there to apply the finishing touch.

The All-Stars' passing starts with Michigan's Chuck Ortmann and Notre Dame's Bob Williams. Whizzer White of Arizona State at Tempe perhaps is the trickiest runner the All-Stars have boasted in some time. There are Southern Methodist's Kyle Rote, Michigan State's Sonny Grandelius, among others, in the backfield.

UCLA's Bob Wilkinson, Vanderbilt's Ernie Curtis and Virginia's Schroeder are the ends. The tackles star with Kentucky's gigantic Bob Cain, Texas' Ken Jackson, Michigan's Al Wahl and Tulane's Don Joyce. Listed among the guards are Texas' Lewis McFadin, Pennsylvania's Bernie Lemonick and Ohio State's Bob Irschman. Notre Dame's Jerry Groom and North Carolina's Irving Holdash are the centers.

Hickman would like to take, his present coaching staff and squad to Yale. He hasn't seen a set-up like it since he left Army.

PONY LEAGUE

By The Associated Press

The Olean Oilers pounded in a total of 34 runs last night to sweep a doubleheader from the last place Corning Athletics.

Oiler batters connected for 15 hits to win the first game, 13-9, and racked up 20 hits in the second for a 21-9 victory. Corning batters had nine hits in the first and eight in the nightcap.

Jamestown's Falcons stayed out in front of the second-place Orleans by beating Batavia, 8-3. Batavia gave the game away in the fifth inning when the Falcons scored five runs on two hits and four Chippewas errors.

It was the last meeting of the season for the two teams with Jamestown winning 12 and Batavia six of the scheduled 18 games.

Wellsville shortstop Ray Reed had two homers for a total of six runs batted in as the Rockets walked on Hornell, 8-1.

The Hamilton Cardinals opened with three runs in the first inning and went on to edge Bradford, 6-5, the night's other game.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

By The Associated Press
Los Angeles — Jimmy Carter, 135, New York, outpointed Mario Trigo, 138½, Los Angeles, 10 (non-title).
Brooklyn — Tommy Barzono, 150½, Middletown, Conn. Stopped Joe Grass, 169½, Detroit, 8.

Arrange Playoffs in Hot Stove Intermediate, Midget Loops

Hot Stove leaders, meeting at Trinity Memorial parish house last night, drew up plans for playoffs between the eastern and western divisions for the 1951 championships of both the Intermediate and Midget Leagues.

Both series will be best-out-of-three game affairs. Virgil Kittner, chairman of the Intermediate Steering Committee, will supervise the playoff for that league, while Frank Seely, chairman of the Midget Steering Committee, will direct the championship games for that circuit.

(The Intermediate series will open Thursday night, with the second game to be played Saturday night. If a third game is necessary, it will be scheduled next Tuesday evening.)

Western Auto, (6th Ward) champion of the Intermediate League's Eastern Division, won the toss last night, and elected to play Thursday night's game at War Memorial field, starting at 6 o'clock. Opponent for the Automaten will be the Waxman Furniture squad (4th Ward) which swept the Western Division without a defeat.

Second game in the Intermediate playoffs will be staged on Jackson Field on Saturday night, with game time at 6 o'clock.

In the Midget League, the Times-Mirror team (9th Ward) won the Eastern Division while the Sons of Italy (4th Ward) copped the Western Division flag.

First game in the Midget series will be played Monday night at 6 o'clock at Lacy school field. Second game is booked for next Wednesday night, also at 6 o'clock, at Jackson field. Third game, if needed, will be scheduled for Friday, August 24, at Beatty field.

League President Charles Musante has asked that all team handlers collect uniforms and equipment as soon as their teams complete their schedules and to turn the equipment over to him before September 1. The cooperation of all team handlers and ward and district leaders is asked in getting the equipment checked in so that arrangements can be made to clean and store it over the winter months.

MIDDLE ATLANTIC

The Erie Sailors took a game and a half lead in the Middle Atlantic Baseball League last night by defeating the New Castle Indians 4-2 while second-place Niagara Falls was losing to Lockport 10-9.

It was a duel of pitchers in the Sailor-Indian game with Keith Nicholls getting credit for the win. Nicholls allowed seven hits while Bill Ciske, the loser, passed out six—one a homer to Jack Byers.

Lockport staved off a Falls' rally in the ninth to win. The Falls crew pushed over three runs but couldn't collect the tying score.

Defense Contracts For Local Plants

Two local firms were among those awarded defense contracts, it was announced today by the Field Service of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

One of the awards was for $60,000 to the United Refining Co. for aircraft engine oil for the Armed Services Petroleum Purchasing Agency in Washington.

The second award was made to Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., Warren, for expansion of facilities for the production of steel wire. No dollar value of the contract, issued through the Signal Corps Procurement Agency in Philadelphia, was announced.

Several other firms in the area also were awarded defense contracts. These included:

- A $31,760 contract to Airplanes and Marine Instruments, Clearfield, for 138 rotary switches.
- A contract, value undisclosed, to the Kane Manufacturing Corp., Kane, for Signal cases.
- A contract, value undisclosed, to the Jamestown Table Co., Jamestown, for 258 maple finish desks.

FRENCH MINISTER SLAIN—French Cabinet Minister Pierre Chevallier, 42, above, newly appointed Secretary of State for Technical Training, was shot dead by his wife Yvonne Chevallier, 38, according to French police who said Mrs. Chevallier confessed slaying her husband because he "loved" politics more than her.

GARLAND

The Willing Workers of the Garland Methodist church, met recently at the parsonage of the new pastor, Rev. C. C. Ross, at Youngsville.

Mrs. R. Smith, worthy matron of the Youngsville Chapter of the Eastern Star, attended a banquet given by that order in Titusville, Tuesday.

The younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Canning is ill.

Some of our out of town employees are having a vacation.

Audrey Smith left Wednesday with a group of other Girl Scouts for a trip to Pittsburgh, sight-seeing and to see a ball game.

Word has reached Garland of the birth of a son to Dr. and Mrs. Tulipan of New York City. The mother is the former Joan Bristow, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Bristow of Garland. The young man has been named Noel Bristow.

Rev. and Mrs. Southern of Verona, N. Y., have been in the village this week visiting friends. Rev. Southern was a resident pastor of the Garland Presbyterian church 16 years ago, and this is his first return visit. He was also the weekend guest of Miss Theresa Nelson of Irvine, and preached Sunday morning in the Presbyterian church there. Several from here attended the service.

Joanne Kane Zimmer and infant son, of Erie, are visiting at the home of her parents while Mrs. Zimmer is convalescing.

Mrs. Harry Hill and daughter, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Culver, in Titusville.

Word has reached Garland of the coming marriage of Barbara Brooks in Youngstown, Ohio. The bride-elect is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brooks and granddaughter of Mrs. A. J. Brooks, formerly of Pittsfield.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church is holding a rummage sale this week in the community center.

Mr. Nobles is back home after several days in the Warren General Hospital, following a heart attack.

Mrs. Colbert has had as guests her sisters from Pittsburgh.

The Youngsville Orange Circle met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Briggs, Sr. Dinner was served on the lawn.

Mr. and Mrs. Storch and daughter are in New York City, vacationing.

The young people in the community have been enjoying several out of town parties.

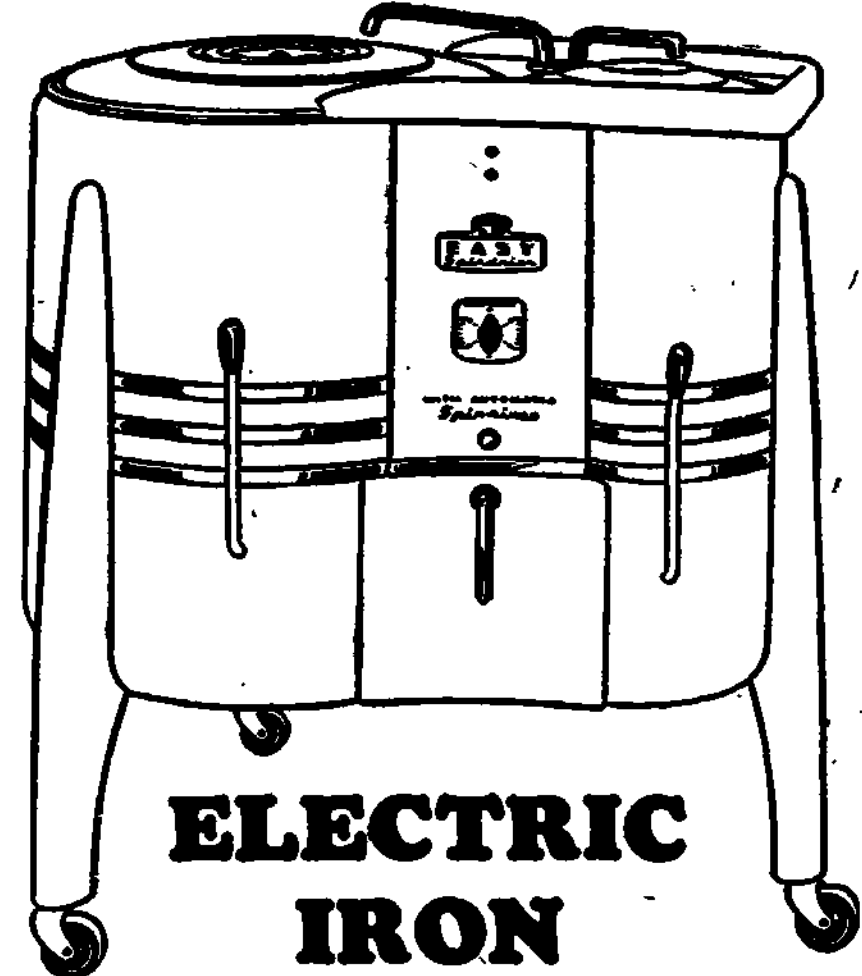

Invitations are being received to the coming wedding of Pauline Zolko, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Zolko, and Joseph Baran. A miscellaneous shower is being planned for the bride-elect on August 17th in the Community Center.

Norman Taylor has returned with his aunts, Wave Carlson and Vivian Smith, and his cousin, Audrey Smith, which took them through Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Ohio, visiting many places of interest in said states. On their return Mrs. Smith found a surprise planned by her husband and son, with lovely gifts on a flower decorated table in celebration of their silver wedding anniversary which occurred on August 11th. A tiered cake in white with silver leaves from her sister, Ida N. Taylor, was also part of the occasion. Their friends join in wishing many years
